Purchased in 1965 by Reginaldo Cianferoni, professor at the University of Florence, today Caparsa is one of the most interesting realities in Radda, zone of Chianti Classico. Paolo, son of Reginaldo, is maybe one of the last "vigneron" and his work in the vineyard is expressed in wines with a unique and unmistakable acidity and powerful aromas and tannins. Paolo Cianferoni's wines are authentic, sometimes apparently rustic but over time they express a great elegance and strength of Radda's terroir.
