The new Beaujolais has arrived! The eclectic Nicolas Rossignol has acquired vineyards in the BROUILLY, MORGON and MOULIN-À-VENT crus, creating a new 3.5-hectare estate and four iconic wines. The goal is to rediscover the Beaujolais of yesteryear: wines for pleasure but also great wines for aging. BROUILLY "La Folie" comes from 60-year-old vines on pink granite soils. This terroir gives structured wines with ripe tannins and great longevity. CÔTE DE BROUILLY "Chavannes" comes from mixed vines on blue granites. Mineral, rich and dense wines, perfect for aging. MORGON "Corcelette" comes from three parcels and is a fine, elegant wine with spicy notes and harmonious tannins and the MOULIN-À-VENT is a blend of two parcels vinified with 50% whole clusters that offers an intense and rich wine, worthy rivals to the great Burgundy wines that Nicolas continues to produce in "his" Côte de Beaune.
