Owned by the same family since 1711, Lacquy is the oldest Chateau in Bas-Armagnac and covers about 400 hectares, 25 of which are planted with vines. The main varieties are the Baco 22 A which allows long aging, the Ugni-Blanc which gives elegance and finesse, the Colombard which gives the aromas of mature fruit and the Folle Blanche the legendary traditional grape. The Château de Lacquy is one of the five founders of the "Crus Légendaires en Bas Armagnac" where through a "charter of the quality" is defined as the quality process to get a great Bas Armagnac. Gilles and Veronique represent today the Chateau, a great interpreter of the area.
